Removal of asbestos insulation boards in garage, coal store and store room.

Client:
Private Homeowner

Homeowners carrying out a large scale refurbishment of their detached home in Heswall, Wirral, identified asbestos insulation board in the garage, adjacent coal store and store room.

A licensed removal strategy was required under fully controlled conditions and a live working enclosure installed. A team of three carried out the works over a four day period, delivering the contract on time and within budget. Homeowners remained in the property whilst all works were delivered with other trades carrying out works in various other parts of the property. Upon completion, the team welcomed fantastic feedback from tenants who praised the work and efficiency of the AS UK team.

Dave Coleman, Managing Director of Asbestos Services UK commented:

"Having carried out removal works in lots of different residential properties, our teams understand the sensitive nature of these works. It's imperative that works are carried out professionally and as quickly as possible, delivering an asbestos free home at the end with guaranteed peace of mind."
